The symbol of the college is a four faceted, crowned shield in a circular border bearing the official name of the institution and its founding date. It was designed by Dr. John B. Wolfe in 1973 and it appears on diplomas awarded to graduates of the College.

A crown rests on top of the shield. That represents excellence. The bottom facet of the shield contains an open book with the word “sciencia.” The open book stands for knowledge and the science overprint denotes the particular field of knowledge which is the foundation of chiropractic.

The right facet of the shield contains a sword and serpent figure. The sword stands for dragon slaying, or in a more conceptual interpretation, seeking out and curing ills. Together they symbolize health care, the professional career in which we have chosen to enter.

The middle facet has a tree and a star figure. The star stands for Minnesota, the North Star state. A tree historically represents strength. The fir tree in the shield is reminiscent of Minnesota’s evergreen forests and the color forest green associated with the Doctor of Chiropractic degree.

The left hand facet has a rampant lion, which symbolizes courage, an attribute which we pledge to uphold in the Chiropractic oath at graduation.
I appreciate a Yearbook the most when I take it off the shelf or out of a storage box years later to look at pictures, read the comments and remember the happenings of the time. I think about the people who were together, the activities and concerns that we shared and how what took place then has affected our lives since.

The following is what I expect to reflect on when I pick up this Yearbook a few years from now:

- Health care was undergoing reform across the nation, and we were worried about how our profession would be affected. This caused us to feel insecure about our future. We wrote to our legislators or called on them directly.

- Research in our profession became a priority because demonstrating the effectiveness of chiropractic care through outcome studies was one certain path to establishing our profession in the healthcare mainstream and assuring that people would be able to receive our services.

- Many changes were taking place within the college: new leadership for academic and clinical programs; the Year 2000 Committee published “Preparing Doctors for Chiropractic for the 21st Century,” which led the faculty to begin a major review of the curriculum; internship took on new value with initiation of community based internship and interdisciplinary outreach programs; and the student services office stepped up its activity level in helping students explore professional opportunities while in school and become more certain about their practice arrangements after graduation.
As usual, students worked very hard at their classes, always feeling a lot of stress. They really contributed to helping the college continue to improve. Through various clubs and councils, student groups supplemented the educational programs and provided needed recreation and physical activity. More than just good students, our students were quality people.

A huge advancement was taking place throughout the world in the acceptance and utilization of chiropractic services with national licensure and new chiropractic colleges emerging in foreign countries.

I also expect that a few years from now when we recall 1994 and the concerns that we had about the impact of health reform on the accessibility of chiropractic health service to people, we will find that the changes did not deter the movement that was taking place toward more conservative, more natural approaches to health care with an emphasis on physical fitness and living healthfully. Just as during our profession’s first 100 years, the advancement will be continuing until chiropractic care is an accepted part of the health care system in all countries of the world. I really expect that.

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR FUTURE ALUMNI

As the Centennial Celebration fast approaches we are reminded of the honorable past of our profession. Our memories of the past also lead us to take a closer look at our future. With the public's rising interest in alternative health care we sit at the brink of an incredible opportunity. With the excellent education provided at Northwestern and the ambition of our many dedicated students, such as yourself, you can be assured that our profession will thrive tomorrow.

Congratulations and Best Wishes to our students and recent graduates. You are our single greatest resource, and we are proud you will be an alumnus of Northwestern.

If you plan on being in practice in five or ten years... make sure your insurance company is Today, many companies offer malpractice insurance for doctors of chiropractic. But only one company—NCMIC—has been selling chiropractic malpractice insurance for nearly fifty years.

For all that time, we've covered our policyholders against legal action and given them the peace-of-mind that comes with knowing they're protected by the leading insurer in the business.

When you look to the future of your practice, it only makes sense to be protected by the one company you can count on to be there when you need it. Today. Tomorrow. And, if need be, long after you retire.

We take care of our own.
