Northwestern Health Sciences University

2501 West Eighty-fourth Street
Bloomington, MN 55431

Northwestern Health Sciences University is devoted to the pursuit of excellence of education in the areas of acupuncture, massage therapy, chiropractic, and oriental medicine. The pages of this book show the journey and transition from our awkward first steps through the doors of Northwestern to our confident strides across the stage at our graduations. As we come together to become natural health care practitioners, we not only gain the knowledge and ability to be at the forefront of health care, we also build lasting relationships in both our personal and professional lives. As we look to the future, we take with us the experiences and memories of our times together at Northwestern.
welcome to Northwestern Health Sciences University...

As you take your first steps as a new natural health care practitioner in the months and years ahead, your focus will naturally be on decisions about the future. Building a practice, maybe moving to a new state, and raising a family will consume most of your waking moments as you pursue your dreams.

But one day - years, perhaps decades from today - you will leaf through these pages and reflect on the emotions and thoughts that characterized your years pursuing a degree or certificate at Northwestern Health Sciences University. It is then that the value of this yearbook will become truly apparent. A certain picture, maybe of you in technique class or of a classmate in the cafeteria, will transport you back years or decades to the hallways of Northwestern. The sounds and sights of the past will reach out over the years and touch you.

At that moment, the value of your education at Northwestern will crystallize. In those years since you graduated, you will have treated thousands - maybe tens of thousands of men, women, and children. For many of them, your care will have lifted them from pain and suffering. You will have validated your decision to become a natural health care practitioner.

I congratulate you on your hard work and dedication over the past years at Northwestern as you sought to realize your dreams. When I think back to 1963, the year I graduated as a Doctor of Chiropractic, I can recall how happy I was to be out of school and opening a new practice in Charlotte, Michigan. I lived for today and tomorrow. But now, more than four decades later, I have time to reflect on my years pursuing a degree as a natural health care practitioner.

And what I realize is that my dreams have become reality, and I am blessed to be a member of one of the most wonderful careers in life - healing people Naturally.

Good luck in the years ahead.

The Minnesota College of Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine is the largest and oldest school in the state of Minnesota offering master's ACAOM accredited degree programs. The curriculum for the Master of Oriental Medicine program provides almost 3,000 hours of didactic and clinical instruction in acupuncture, Chinese herbology, and related studies such as Tui Na, Qigong, introductory Chinese language skills and practice management. The program takes three years of full-time enrollment to complete. The curriculum for the Master of Acupuncture program is similar to that of the Oriental Medicine program, but does not include herbal studies. This program includes about 2,300 hours of instruction, taking 2 2/3 years to complete. Both programs emphasize the unified understanding of the mind, body and spirit inherent in traditional Chinese medicine. MCAOM has gathered a multi-national faculty which is committed to academic and professional excellence and to teaching the extensive body of knowledge and skills necessary for safe and effective practice. Our graduates have the education and skills necessary to develop a successful practice based on their own personal style.
Mark S. McKenzie. L.Ac., M.Om Dipl. OM NCTMB, has been Dean of MCAOM since September, 2002.

Mark provides MCAOM with a unique combination of business skills, direct management experience and licensure as an acupuncturist and Chinese herbologist. He has been an acupuncturist in the Twin Cities since 1999, graduating from MIAHS in 1999 and then obtaining a Master’s degree in Oriental Medicine from MCAOM in 2002.

For two years prior to accepting his current position, Mark worked part-time as an acupuncture practitioner and clinic supervisor in the Edith Davis Teaching Clinic on the NWHSU Bloomington campus.

Mark currently serves as the president of the Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine Association of Minnesota (ACAOM). He is a nationally certified massage therapist (NCTMB) and holds a bachelor’s degree in biology and is on the executive committee of the Council of Colleges of Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine.

school of massage therapy

providing quality education and clinical development in the field of massage therapy

The program is 780 hours in length and takes one year (three trimesters) to complete. Applicants must be at least 18 years of age at the time of admission, have earned a high school diploma, its foreign equivalent, or a GED, and have demonstrated sufficient maturity to undertake a health care profession, including the capacity to ethically and responsibly manage professional boundaries. The program is very clinically focused. There is a strong emphasis on anatomy, particularly muscle locations and attachments. Students are guided through a traditional relaxation massage in their first trimester and onto a more clinical focused, trigger point therapy massage in their second and third trimesters. There is also, a strong focus on the business of massage as it relates to communication, ethics, professionalism, boundaries, marketing and practice building.
Dr. Dale Healey graduated from Parker College of Chiropractic in 1996 with a bachelor's degree in anatomy and a Doctor of Chiropractic degree. He joined NWHSU as the Dean of the School of Massage Therapy in September of 2002.

He spent the five years previous to joining NWHSU at Myotherapy College of Utah, a massage therapy school in Salt Lake City, Utah, where he was the Education Director and an instructor. Dr. Healey enjoys being involved in education and finds dealing with students exciting and energizing.

The clinic was established September 15, 2003, for Massage Therapy. Dale Healey, DC, dean of the school of massage therapy of Northwestern, is excited about the move, "I think it is a fantastic opportunity for us. The advantages include a sense of ownership, dedicated space, and complete flexibility to create our own schedules." Previously, the massage clinic was sharing space with the chiropractic student interns in the DeRusha Center (UHS).

professional education for one to practice as a portal-of-entry, primary care physician

Mission
The Doctor of Chiropractic Program contributes to the mission, vision, goals and objectives of the University by advancing chiropractic health care through education, scholarly activity and clinical service, and by:
1. Providing educational resources and opportunities for students to obtain the knowledge, skills and attributes to practice chiropractic effectively, ethically and safely as a portal-of-entry, primary-care doctor
2. Advancing scholarship within the chiropractic profession by supporting University research efforts, advocating scholarly activity within the curriculum, and promoting the utilization and interpretation of evidence in clinical practice
3. Providing clinical relevance and experience throughout the curriculum, active-participation internships in a mentor-model delivery of clinical services, and interdisciplinary practice and externship opportunities.

History of the Program
Northwestern College of Chiropractic was founded on June 2, 1942 by Dr. John B. Wolfe. The current enrolment of almost 700 students has outgrown three campuses, finally settling on our current 25 acre campus in Bloomington. In 1984, Dr. Wolfe retired as President and Dr. Don Cassata was appointed as the second President, serving until 1991. Northwestern’s third President, Dr. John Allenberg, led the transition from Northwestern College of Chiropractic to the College of Chiropractic within Northwestern Health Sciences University (1999). Dr. Allenberg retired in 2001 and was followed by our fourth President, Dr. Alfred Traina, and in September, 2006, by our fifth and current President, Dr. Mark Ziegler, who is also an alumnus of Northwestern College of Chiropractic.

The College of Chiropractic at Northwestern Health Sciences University has continually been on the forefront of chiropractic education. Northwestern was a key participant in the development of the Council on Chiropractic Education. It pioneered the six-year program that eventually became a CCE requirement of all chiropractic programs. More recently, the College initiated the Community Based Internship Program which has been replicated by a growing number of chiropractic programs. Currently, the College of Chiropractic continues to be a leader in quality, diverse clinical education with its integrative care clinic, Woodwinds Natural Care Center, located in a major metropolitan hospital.
Dr. Michael Wiles is the current Dean of the College of Chiropractic. He is a graduate of the Canadian Memorial Chiropractic College, receiving his DC degree in 1976. He also holds a BS and a MEd degree, as well as a Fellowship in the College of Chiropractic Science (Canada). Dr. Wiles has taught and practiced chiropractic for 30 years, and his

Welcome To The World!
Success Lies at Your Feet

A solid foundation. It's the key to building a thriving practice and providing quality patient care.

Scientific research shows that you can improve how your adjustments hold while reducing the stress placed upon the body during walking and running — by starting at the feet, the foundation of the body. And the advanced proprietary technologies of Foot Levelers' custom-made Spinal Pelvic Stabilizers are what make this possible.

See for yourself why so many chiropractors around the world use Foot Levelers' Stabilizers. Try us on for FREE today!

FREE Stabilizers for Students!

Foot Levelers' Stabilizers are now available in your student clinic. All chiropractic students and college employees are eligible for one FREE pair of Foot Levelers' Stabilizers — if clinically indicated. Bring this certificate to your clinic staff doctor for an evaluation to receive your FREE pair.
